
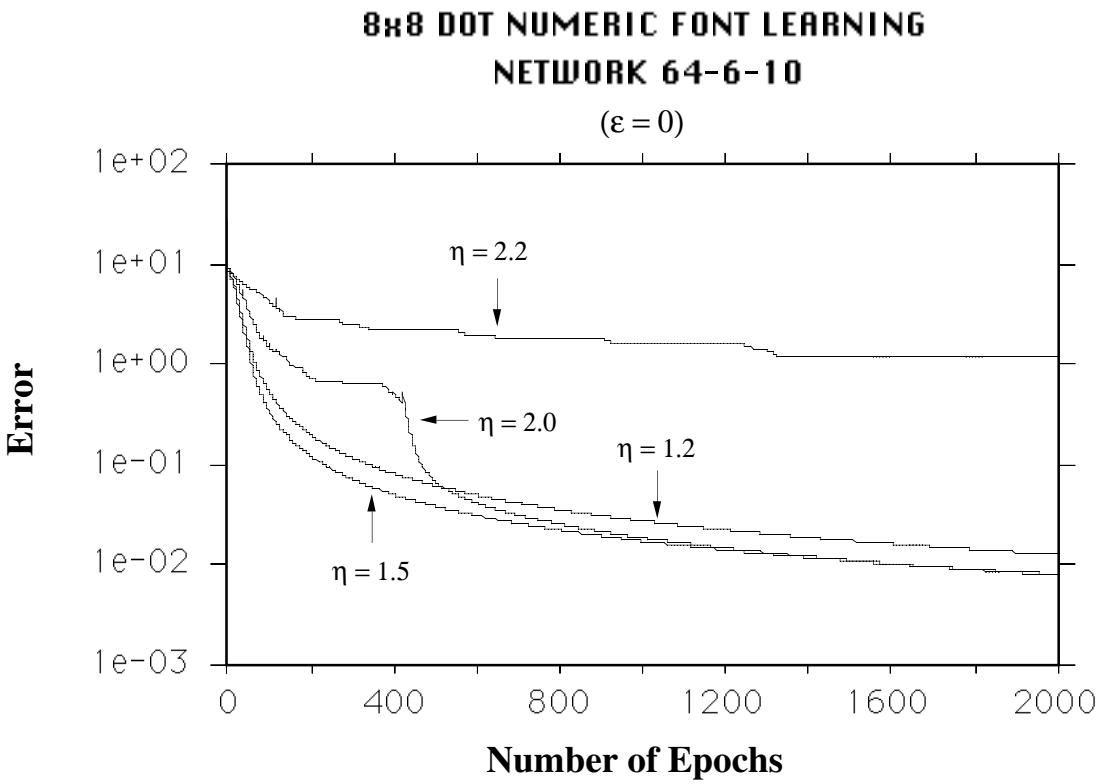

FIGURE 5.
Mean learning curves for the 8x8 dot numeric font learning obtained using the standard back propagation. Each curve refers to a different value of the learning parameter η. The means were computed over five different trials with initial steepness distribution SD2 (see Fig. 2). The best performance was obtained when η = 1.5.